Welcome from Mr Morgan and the Snowsport Team

The TPS Snowsport team has just returned from their annual trip to St Michael im Langau in Austria. This is the third time the school has visited this resort, and we were warmly welcomed back by Tomas and his young family to the wonderful Hotel Weissenstein. As ever we were looked after like we were part of the family.

Students participated in 5 and half days of lessons with the amazing ski school at St Michael. 16 students snowboarded while the remaining 56 students skied. The conditions this year were a little colder and windier than previous years, but this meant the snow conditions were great. All the students made exceptional progress in their lessons, with the advanced and intermediate groups extending their experience in the neighbouring resort of Obertraun. Other than the snowboarding and skiing students participated in team activities each night, including bingo and bowling, this culminated in the fancy dress disco on the final night.

The students were a great credit to the school and really have lived the TPS ethos of Enjoy, Respect, Achieve.

Top quote from the trip.

'Hey sir just wanted to say that the ski trip was so good wish I could do it all again and thanks for everything'.

The 2027 Snowsports trip is already fully booked but the 2028 trip will be advertised in Sept so keep your eyes open for the email.

Failed talks lead to new Trump threat

Has he really won the war? Last week Iran and the US agreed to a ceasefire. But after failed negotiations at the weekend the situation in the Middle East remains tense

This week students will be debating whether Donald Trump has won the war, with some citing US military strength or whether the conflict has allowed Iran to grown stronger, with many concluding that the conflict has no real winners and has instead worsened global instability.

Host Families Wanted for UK-China Cultural Exchange Programme!

We are excited to announce that The Petersfield School will once again be hosting a group of 20 students from Elite Journey as part of an enriching UK-China Cultural Exchange Programme. The students, aged 11-16, will be visiting TPS in July to experience British culture and enhance their language skills.

We are now looking for host families within the TPS community who can open their homes and offer a warm, supportive environment for these visiting students during their stay from 11– 20 July 2026 (arriving on the 11th and departing in the morning of the 20th).

Headteacher Commendations

During the last half term, Year 7 students have completed a homework project exploring erosional and depositional landforms. Students created a wide range of projects from interactive models with water pumps to 3D sculpted models, and some fantastic cakes. Students were awarded with Headteacher Commendations for all their hard work.

Social Media and Teenagers

New Research

New research continues to shine a light on this important topic.

A longitudinal study from Birkbeck, University of London found that children aged 11–12 using social media for more than three hours a day were significantly more likely to experience symptoms of depression and anxiety two years later. Sleep disruption was identified as a key factor.

We will continue to educate our students on healthy approaches to their digital lives through our PSHE lessons and assembly programme.

Paddle Boarding and Kayaking

We are delighted to announce that we will once again be running sessions in the summer term to introduce students to paddle boarding and kayaking. These sessions are open to students in Y7 and 8 and will take place at Hawley Lake near Frimley on Wednesday and Friday afternoons from 01 May. Full details including how to sign in the parent letter here Paddling-Parent-Letter.pdf

Year 7 Homework

Year 7 students start the year with a lighter homework timetable to help them settle into secondary school. From January, they will move onto the full weekly homework schedule.

Below is an overview of the homework students will receive each week from January.

Please note that expressive arts subjects may occasionally set optional enrichment tasks, which students can complete if they would like to.

Subject	Estimated time per week
English booklet	30 minutes
Literacy (Reading Plus/Lexia)	60 minutes (plus 30 minutes completed during Literacy lesson)
Maths Sparx*	30 minutes
Science Sparx*	30 minutes
MFL	30 minutes
History OR Geography project (alternates half termly)	30 minutes

*Over time, the Sparx algorithm should adjust the difficulty level so that it is suitable for individual students, meaning it can be completed in 30 minutes. If you are finding that even after several weeks, your child is spending more than 30 distraction-free minutes completing Sparx, please contact your child's Science or Maths teacher.

Payments for the trips for ERA week are due

Ocean Youth Trust Sailing Voyage

Before the Easter break TPS students spent a week on an Ocean Youth Trust Sailing Voyage. The students spent the week sleeping, eating, cooking, living and sailing on the tall ship 'Prolific'. They worked with a fantastic team of sailing staff to get the ship ready by rigging sails, setting fenders and then driving the boat. An amazing experience for them all and the students had a great time.

Team TPS Alumni News

Fantastic to see TPS alumni Gregg Baxter sharing his passion for powerchair football on BBC breakfast!

Gregg is a great talent in the sport, becoming the first player ever to win premiership league titles for teams in both England and Scotland. He is also on the England team development pathway.

Good luck Gregg with continued success in the future!

Find practical information from trusted places to help you feel more confident on the steps you can take to protect your child online.

With so many apps, games, and websites out there, it's easy to feel overwhelmed. But the good news is you're not alone.

For parents...

Personal data is a strange commodity. Cyber thieves can buy huge quantities of personal data on the black market for very little, yet your own personal data is hugely valuable to you. If your personal data falls into the wrong hands, it could lead to identity theft, bank fraud or something even more sinister such as stalking. The severity of that threat is multiplied when it comes to the personal data of children, when threats such as internet grooming begin to emerge. The bad news is that children aren't always great at safeguarding sensitive information, which is why they need parents' help and guidance. That's why we've created this guide to show you how you can protect your own and your family's personal data.

What parents need to know about PROTECTING PERSONAL DATA

EVERY DETAIL IS KEY

Which info should you be wary of sharing online? Aside from the obvious, such as full names, date of birth and address, think of the type of information you're asked for when answering security questions for services such as online banking. The name of your first school, your mother's maiden name, the names of your pets, your favourite band. Data thieves will harvest as much of this information as possible, so don't make it easy for them by publishing it anywhere online.

SOCIAL MEDIA VISIBILITY

Social media sites, such as Facebook, encourage us to share sensitive information in order to build our online profiles. Many people are lulled into thinking that only their friends can see such information, but that's rarely the case. Such information can easily be shared with 'friends of friends' or even anyone searching for you online because privacy settings are opaque. Keep social media profiles to the bare minimum. If you wouldn't be comfortable hanging a sign with that information on your front door, don't enter it into social media sites.

DANGEROUS GAMES

Online games are a particular risk for children. Many of the most popular games – such as Fortnite, Minecraft or Roblox – have voice or text chat facilities, allowing them to talk to fellow gamers. Or, sometimes, people pretending to be fellow gamers. It's very easy for children to be seduced into divulging personal data such as their address, birthday or school. It's critical parents both educate children on the dangers on online chat in games and take safeguards to protect children.

IMPOSTERS AND PHISHING ATTACKS

Even if you're scrupulous about keeping your data private on social media, it's easy to be lulled into handing it over to imposters. There are two golden rules for you and your children to follow: 1. Never divulge personal information to phone callers, unless you can be absolutely certain you know who they are. 2. Never click on links or open attachments in emails or social media, unless you're 100% certain they are genuine. So-called phishing emails are growing ever-more sophisticated, with fraudsters able to replicate the exact look of bank emails and even include details such as account numbers and IDs.

THE RISKS OF PASSWORD SHARING

Password sharing – using the same password for multiple sites – is one of the easiest ways to lose control of your personal data. Hacking of major websites, including usernames and passwords, is common. If you're using the same password for a hacked site as you do on your Gmail account, for example, you're handing data thieves an easy route into your inbox, where they will doubtless find all manner of sensitive information, such as bank emails and contacts. Your email account will often also let them reset the password on multiple other accounts. Don't share passwords; use password managers to create strong, unique passwords for every site.

Safety Tips for Parents & Carers

LOOK OUT FOR LEAKS

Many security software packages have features that look for personal data leaks or prevent people from entering it into risky sites in the first place. For example, Bullguard Premium monitors dangerous sites for usage of data such as your email address, debit card numbers, passport number and more, and then sends you email alerts and details of how to take remedial action if it spots them being used. Such software also issues warnings if it sees personal data being entered into unprotected, high-risk sites.

KEEP DATA GUARDED

Don't give the thieves a head start by handing them pieces of sensitive information for free. For example, it's very common to see email address such as davesmith1976@gmail.com – an immediate clue that you were born in that year. If you have a less common name than Dave Smith, thieves could immediately start using that information to cross reference against public records or other database breaches, allowing them to start building a profile of information about you. Likewise, don't use your date of birth in a password. If that's hacked, you've handed the thieves another big clue.

DON'T OVERSHARE ON SOCIAL MEDIA

The biggest threat to your child's privacy is you. Parents often overshare personal information on social media: full names, names of schools, children's birthdays, names of their friends. All of this can be easily gleaned to build profiles that could be used to groom your child in online games or in real life. Exercise extreme caution with social media posts concerning your children.

BE WARY OF SHARED NETWORKS/SYSTEMS

Avoid entering any personal data into a web browser when you're using public Wi-Fi (in a coffee shop or airport, for example) or when using shared computers. Shared Wi-Fi connections are much easier to eavesdrop on than your home network, especially if they are not password protected or the password is shared freely with customers. Don't do online shopping, banking or enter any logins/passwords when using shared Wi-Fi. Likewise, if you're using a shared computer at work, for example, as it's very easy for a browser to save logins that could be used by others.

PLAY SAFE IN ONLINE GAMES

Children must be taught to treat strangers in online games with the same caution as they would treat strangers in the street. Don't allow children to use their real name as their username in games to prevent imposters conning kids into thinking they are real-life friends, and only allow them to add friends in the game that they know in real life. Regularly ask to monitor your child's friends list in such games and ask them to identify who the players are. With younger children in particular, ask them to only use voice chat in family rooms, so that you can hear conversations.
